Press Release

Issued: 17th December 2007

For Immediate Release

TITLE: DRAMA ON THE STREETS!

Panto season is upon us! If you are worrying about the cost of tickets on top of all your other Christmas expenses, then a group of Year 12 Theatre Studies students from Richmond School may have the solution.

Organised and directed by Eleanor Papadimos (Buttons, centre) they have put together an abridged version of Cinderella that they will be performing in Richmond Market Place, opposite the Town Hall, on Saturday 22nd December. Performances will start on the hour and half hour between 10am and 5pm and last around twenty minutes.

All money collected will go to the Amala Children's Home in India. So, come along, cheer and shout and boo and hiss in true pantomime tradition, all for the price of a coin in a bucket, and hope it doesn't snow!! . . .
